Functional Art

It's the best way to describe this stunning collection of stumps and roots that have been handcrafted into beautiful wine bottle holders, cheese boards, platters and bowls.

Shan Mu

Cypress Root Wood

The story of the Shan Mu root wood is a story about a community of artists and craftsmen creating their own industry by reclaiming stumps and roots left behind by the furniture industry.

Local craftsman discovered that this beautiful wood could be repurposed into some beautiful, yet functional, works of art.

Local farmers harvest the stumps left behind and bring them down to this family run business within this village of artists. As the first and largest village working on this craft they have greatly improved their process and drying technique over the years. The quality speaks for itself. This business has grown to be very successful, employing a good number of people from the local community. When you buy one of these pieces of art, you take home a uniquely crafted item that plays an integral role in supporting an entire community.

Reclaiming the stumps of the beautiful Shan Mu Tree (Cypress) into Functional Art.
